RUNOFF RACES HEADING DOWN HOME STRETCH

Four county election contests and three state races hold the center of interest in the runoff primary next week in Coffee county when voters will be presented a ballot only about one fourth as long as that they marked in the First Primary.

The county contests are as follows:

For Tax Assessor, between Thomas E. Bowden and Fred L. Donaldson.

For Tax Collector, between Laura S. Barker and James L. Sawyer.

For County Commissioner, District 1, between Eugene Brown, the incumbent, and Rex A. Lowery.

For County Commissioner, District 2, between R. D. Dyess and Claude Tindell, the incumbent.

The state balloting centers upon a hotly-contested campaign between C. C. "Jack" Owen, incumbent, and Ed Popper for president of the Alabama Public Service Commission. Popper has the endorsement of Former Gov. James E. Folsom.

Little attention has been attracted by the race for ten places as delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles but 20 candidates for Presidential Electors are battling hard between a slate of ten candidates who have pledged themselves to vote for the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be, and ten unpledged to any slate.

Electoral candidates are listed alphabetically so persons wishing to vote for either group will need either to memorize the names or take to the polls a list of the group they wish to support.

LET'S BEGIN NOW

The failure of the Summit Conference only emphasizes anew how woefully inadequate is our foreign relations, and why.

No skilled observer of our foreign policy expected progress to be made at the Summit. A nationally syndicated business letter distributed the week before the conference frankly said that Russia would call the tune—that the Summit was merely to serve as propaganda by the Russians.

While the outcome made Americans boiling mad, that made no difference to the Russians. It meant favorable publicity in Russia and in the under-developed countries throughout the world.

It recalls to mind a statement attributed to Will Rogers that: "America has never lost a war or won a conference."

This country, immediately after its foundation, established a school at West Point, N. Y., and later at Annapolis, Md., to train professional military men because it realized that skill is required to engage in war. But while we trained men for war, we left foreign affairs to payment of political debts.

When Russia sends an ambassador and Consuls to Thailand, for instance, they send men trained to speak the Thai language without a trace of accent, who know Thai history and economics better than most Thais. By contrast, a former American Ambassador to Siam (later Thai) admitted the only thing he thought he knew about the country when appointed was that Siam was the home of the Siamese twins. Another instance: Claude G. Bowers served as ambassador to Spain for 12 years and never bothered to learn to speak Spanish. Wendell Willkie in his book "One World" told of a proud country with a history going back for 1,000 years where the American ambassador had served 20 years and never took the trouble to learn the language.

The American Secretary of State is the head of our foreign service but no matter how efficient he is, he is helpless without a world-wide network of efficient aides. The best daily newspaper editor in the world would be helpless if he had to depend upon inexperienced reporters and deskmen. What could Admiral Halsey have done in charge of a battleship manned by men fresh out of a factory without training in seamanship. Men trained in diplomacy is the answer. A plan to train men for the diplomatic service has been broached by Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri. He has introduced a bill in the U. S. Senate to establish a Foreign Service Academy on the same footing as the U. S. Military Academy and the U. S. Navy Academy. A copy of this bill is in the office of The Elba Clipper. You are invited to read it and, if you like it, to write to your Senators and Congressman.

"But," you may say, "that's too big a job for Coffee county," to which the reply is, "Read your history again and see the part the Mecklenberg Declaration played in adoption of the American Declaration of Independence."

Enough letters from Coffee county would show to Congress that the rest of the country would react the same way with the same information.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

The $125,000 Smear Campaign Against C. C. (Jack) OWEN

Cannot Change Owen's Outstanding Record as President of the Public Service Commission

Our State has been flooded with false statements by the opponent of C. C. (Jack) Owen in a $125,000 campaign for the presidency of the Public Service Commission—a position that pays a yearly salary of $11,500.

Among these demagogic vote-fishing lures is the reckless charge that utility rates have been raised by Jack Owen.

The Truth Is and the Record Shows:

—That the Public Service Commission has NOT granted a single increase in electric rates during Jack Owen's term in office.

—That excluding actual out-of-pocket cost of gas and wage increases, no increase has been granted the gas company.

—That increases in telephone rates were ordered by the Circuit Court of Montgomery County over Jack Owen's opposition. Jack Owen long has worked for a needed change in the law that would help him bring these rates more in line with other Southeastern States.

In every case, C. C. (Jack) Owen has defended the public interest against ALL unjustified rate increases. No reckless campaign of distortion and abuse can hide these facts.

R. D. DYESS
NEXT TUESDAY
May 31, 1960

Mr. Dyess of District 2 has been elected and supported by the people of said District in the First Primary and is a qualified candidate for the May 31 runoff election. Mr. Dyess, a 47-year-old native of Coffee county, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dyess of Victoria and is married to Mary Nolin Dyess, daughter of Minnie Shiver Nolin and the late Mr. Arthur H. Nolin of Victoria. He and Mrs. Dyess reside at Victoria where he is self-employed as a store proprietor and furniture salesman. Mr. Dyess is a member of Bethlehem Baptist church where he serves as a deacon, also a member of the Elba Masonic Lodge, being active in both church and civic affairs. He is well liked by his community and others throughout the county, having spent most of his life in Coffee county.

Mr. Dyess knows the conditions of the roads and he feels safe in promising to those who support him that he will uphold his office with the dignity and honesty that make for good government, that he will, to the best of his ability, use the equipment to finish all work started previously, use both county and state funds appropriated for the building and maintenance of new roads solely for that purpose, and will use whatever influence he might have to help better the different county departments with which he will be associated.

Mr. Dyess greatly appreciates your support in the May 3rd Primary and urges you to consider him as the man most dependable—a man who neither buys nor can be bought—that will be no part of foul play politics, win or lose! Consider him the taxpayers' candidate—the man the people of District 2 have chosen.

Vatican Political Code Is Reiterated

By Barlett McGurn
(Wireless to The Herald Tribune, New York City)

VATICAN CITY, May 15.—The Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, in one of its first comments on Catholicism and politics since the American presidential campaign preliminaries started, said today that it is "absurd" to try to separate the "believer" from the citizen.

A Catholic, the paper said, must in every sector of his life draw the inspiration of his conduct, both private and public, from the laws, orientations and instructions of the hierarchy (the bishops).

The article made no specific reference to the campaign of Senator John F. Kennedy, of Massachusetts, a Catholic for the Democratic Party's presidential nomination. And it was aimed, in fact, mainly against Italian Catholics who advocate a pro-communist policy.

However, the principles the article laid down were general ones and thus apply in the United States as well.

They're All Happy—

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

Mr. Wellings mows his lawn every Saturday — he and his two assistants.

Technically, it's a one-man operation. But not to Billy and Jean. They insist on helping.

And, what is more, they NEED to help! "Mowing what Daddy does is standard operating procedure for children. It's an essential part of growing up."

Remember this need as another Sunday approaches. You are alarmed over the spread of delinquency. You are determined that your children have adequate religious education.

The Church can provide all but one of the essentials in religious education. THE EXAM-PLE which affords real incentive for your children's every effort MUST COME FROM YOU.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Tractor Maintenance
In a few weeks Coffee 4-H club boys who have tractor maintenance projects will get a letter from me on our annual program. We hope to have a good half-day meeting on learning how to take care of a tractor, and have a tractor driving contest. Safety will be stressed. Speaking Contest

The Annual 4-H Essay and Public Speaking contest will be held in Elba in the Court House Friday, May 27. The program will begin at 8 a.m. The boys and girls who win will compete at the district contest at Troy June 9.

Subjects for essays and speeches will be "Farmer Co-operatives."

Projects

Already this spring I have seen some good cotton, corn, and peanut demonstrations. I am urging the boys to go all out in their efforts to make high yields. Several years ago, 4-H members in Alabama lead the way in producing more corn per acre. This was done by carrying out demonstrations on the latest methods of producing corn. Their efforts paid off.

You can help 4-H members in your community by stopping to see their demonstrations, but those who do will certainly appreciate your visit. Let's give our boys the backing they need.

WAS IT TOUGH—to assemble the figures for that income tax report? Did it cost more in your own time, and the extra time required by your accountant, to work out the figures at the end of the year than it would have cost to keep them right all during the year? You may be surprised at the low
